

THE CHALLENGES

Many organisations have a pool of assets which can be difficult to manage, particularly when there are a high number of people needing to access shared equipment essential to fulfilling their duties.

Similarly, some environments need to provide staff, students or visitors with a central location for securely storing and charging personal devices and other belongings.

Other businesses have identified a need to offer their customers a more straightforward and convenient service and want to implement a system that supports the modern 24/7 lifestyle.
